in this book angelika neuwirth provides a new approach to understanding the founding text of islam typical exegesis of the qur an treats the text teleologically as a fait accompli finished text or as a replica or summary of the bible in arabic instead neuwirth approaches the qur an as the product of a specific community in the late antique arabian peninsula one which was exposed to the wider worlds of the byzantine and sasanian empires and to the rich intellectual traditions of rabbinic judaism early christianity and gnosticism a central goal of the book is to eliminate the notion of the qur an as being a historical she argues that it is in fact highly aware of its place in late antiquity and is capable of yielding valuable historical information by emphasizing the liturgical function of the qur an neuwirth allows readers to see the text as an evolving oral tradition within the community before it became collected and codified as a book this analysis sheds much needed light on the development of the qur an s historical theological and political outlook the book s final chapters analyze the relationship of the qur an to the bible to arabic poetic traditions and more generally to late antique culture and rhetorical forms by providing a new introduction to the qur an one that uniquely challenges current ideas about its emergence and development the qur an and late antiquity bridges the gap between eastern and western approaches to this sacred text
